ON TRIAL FOR DEATH OF A PROSPECTOR

At three o'clock this afternoon the jury box was filled for the third time in the case of the State vs. Kruger, indicted for the murder of a prospector named McWilliams at Round Mountain. Neither side has exercised its peremptories, but it was believed that by this evening the twelve men would be secured. No objection was advanced to the acceptance of women jurors, but none had been reached, so it is not known if the fair sex is acceptable in a case where the life of a man is at stake. The chief question fired at talesmen was whether they would bring in a true verdict in a case where the evidence was purely circumstantial.

OPENS AN OFFICE

Justice Wardell, United States collector of internal revenue, has authorized Thomas J. Lynch, his deputy in charge of southern Nevada, to hours. Heretofore all business had open offices in the Bank block at room 203, where Mr. Lynch may be found during the customary office to be transacted at the home of the deputy.

WAR WORK EXHIBIT

In answer to many requests the exhibit of the Junior Red Cross war work at the old school house will be open to night after 7 o'clock.

EARLY RISING TO MAKE UP MAILS

Postmaster J. J. McQuillan has been called upon to make another sacrifice on the altar of patriotism owing to the change in the time of No. 24 which gets in here at 6 o'clock in the morning. The train proceeds to Goldfield a few minutes later and on this account somebody has to be at the postoffice to make up the mail for that town. The postmaster voluntarily assumed the duty and may be found at his office each morning at 5:30. To facilitate the dispatch of Goldfield mail the postmaster has arranged the drop chutes so that one is labeled for Goldfield mail exclusively and the package chute is used for both local letters and outside packages. This is to simplify the work. If the postmaster had to go through all the mail dropped in during the night he would not be able to pick out the Goldfield letters in time to catch the southbound train. With the office on a ten-hour schedule and the clerks under an eight-hour law it is difficult to arrange matters so that some of the clerks will be at the windows throughout the day. The division of work frequently requires that at certain hours that one clerk take care of the stamp, registration and money order windows. Unless citizens place their mail at night in the Goldfield drop it will not go out next morning.

COWBOY STUMBLES ACROSS BIG MINE

Jack Shepard, the local mining man and prominent prospector of southern Nevada, is still knocking at the door of fortune. Recently he returned from working at the Mercury Mining company, at Lone, and having worked formerly in quicksilver properties in California and realizing the profits in this game at the present time, has been keeping his eye peeled for some time for cinnabar ground. Hearing of cinnabar being found in the Pilot range of mountains he drove his "Tin Lizzie" around that way when coming home and found a buckaroo working a small retort made of 6-inch pipe seven or eight feet long, who was making a living for himself and an Indian boy and two pack animals during the winter. Having some placer locations he was taking out cinnabar and selling same to buy grub. Oscar Gallagher, of Dyer, went into that district last summer after cattle and seeing the condition did a little prospecting which resulted in his locating several valuable claims, together with his partner, Fred Fletcher, who has the mail contract from Oasis to Coalvale. Shepard succeeded in interesting J. B. Tregloan, who organized the Mercury company several years ago. Together they visited the property recently, and Mr. Tregloan immediately took control of these claims, having brought Fletcher and Gallagher to Tonopah a week ago to sign up deeds, etc., which now are in the Tonopah Banking corporation.

SUICIDE AT MASON

On Saturday, May 25, Mrs. W. A. Rogers of Mason was found dead with a bullet hole in her head. She had been drinking heavily and had been known for some time to have a gun in her possession. The evening before she had startled one of her neighbors by presenting the weapon in a very threatening manner as he opened the door in answer to her knock and asking him how to load it.—Yerington Times.

HIGH SCHOOL SENIORS ENGAGED IN PREPARING FOR COMMENCEMENT

High school seniors are engaged today in decorating the high school gymnasium for their commencement exercises tomorrow evening. The graduating class this year consists of fifteen young men and ladies and is the largest in the history of the Tonopah high school. They have sent out invitations to their personal friends but because of a disappointment in the number of invitations they were able to obtain very few of the neat little invitations were available for use in town. However, they wish it distinctly understood that this is not an invitation affair and that all friends and patrons of the school are not only invited but urged to be present. President Walter E. Clark of the University of Nevada, will deliver the commencement address, the subject of which will be "Nevada—an Appreciation and a Challenge." This is President Clark's first visit to Tonopah and the first opportunity for Tonopah people to meet the new president of the university. T. J. Lynch, clerk of the board of trustees of Tonopah school district, will deliver the diplomas to the graduating class. The high school orchestra and H. W. Stotesbury's boy orchestra will provide music for the occasion. Those who heard these musical organizations the evening of the senior class play will be glad of this opportunity to hear them again. The exercises will begin at 8 o'clock in the high school gymnasium. The display of penmanship will be open for inspection after the exercises in the gymnasium.

SCHOOL GIRLS VOLUNTEER ONE HOUR A DAY FOR SURGICAL DRESSINGS

Aside from the work done by the Junior Red Cross which is on display at the old school building there is another branch of the work that has had no advertisement and no exhibit, but which is perhaps the most important of all the work undertaken by the young people of Tonopah. This is the surgical dressing department under the supervision of Mrs. Masterson. With the assistance of Miss Anne Brown and Mrs. McKenzie this room has been open every day from 9 o'clock to 4:30, and here more than 10,000 dressings have been turned out in the last three months. Every girl in the high school and junior high school volunteered one study hour per day. This has kept the room equipped with a working force of twelve girls per period throughout the day. The girls have been remarkably faithful and the type of work is extremely high. The young ladies are to be congratulated and commended for their conscientious service and Mrs. Masterson is entitled to the thanks of the community for her constant service day after day for a period of months. It is an inspiring sight to see this room full of busy girls and the training they receive in dexterity and accuracy is of inestimable value to them all. Some of these young people have shown unusual aptitude. Among them Miss Nellie Sloan and Earline Anderson deserve particular mention. Miss Nellie Sloan has not missed a single day's service since the rooms were opened. One shipment of mixed dressings has already been sent out and another will be completed at the end of this week, at which time the room will be closed until the beginning of the next school term.

GOLDFIELD ISSUES MONTHLY REPORT

According to the May financial statement of the Goldfield chapter of the Red Cross, the chapter gained $1063.82 in cash resources during the month, despite the purchase of over $500 worth of working room supplies, the increase in cash being largely accounted for by the part of the proceeds of the war fund drive that was retained by the chapter. Money received during the month from membership dues, benefits, junior auxiliaries and donations amounted to over $300. The report of Secretary W. E. Zoebel shows that receipts during May amounted to $7278.85 and disbursements to $4960.23, leaving a cash balance of $2318.62. The national Red Cross received $4296.45 and the local chapter retained $1321.40 from cash contributions to the war fund, which to June 1 amounted to $3,726.55.

WHEAT SHORTAGE IS STILL SERIOUS

Rumors and newspaper reports to the effect that wheat regulations were to be less stringent are flatly contradicted by direct wire from Herbert Hoover to the federal food administration for Nevada. The situation regarding wheat is more serious than it has ever been, and only the most rigid economy will allow shipment of minimum wheat requirements to our soldiers and the allies.

While, beginning June, housewives will no longer be required to sign wheat and sugar cards when purchasing bread, flour or sugar, they positively must not exceed the allowance of six pounds of wheat flour products per month, nor may they buy wheat flour without purchasing an equal amount of substitutes.

The federal food administration, in the last analysis, must depend for enforcement of its rulings on the honor of the housewife. Nevada women are urged with all positive seriousness to observe to the letter the rulings regarding wheat flour and to report immediately any proven violations which will be dealt with to the full extent of power under the food laws. Licensees are warned that infractions of the wheat, flour and sugar regulations will not be countenanced.

Grocers in all cases should bring the strictness of these rulings to the attention of customers, reporting to the federal food administrator any attempts at hoarding, misuse of food-stuffs, or evasion of restrictions.

MANHATTAN CON 6 FEET IN LEDGE

C. C. Boak, secretary of the Manhattan Consolidated Mining company, spent Sunday at the mine which, he reports to be in fine looking shape with every promise of continuing the showing found on the upper levels. The crosscut driven from the 500-foot level had penetrated the ledge for a distance of six or seven feet with a good grade of ore showing the full distance on the footwall. The drills are advancing at the rate of five feet a day, alternating in the work on the 400-foot level. As soon as the crosscut reaches the hanging wall drifting both ways will be started on the orebody which it is thought will be cut tolerably close to the easterly end of the shoot.

Regarding the sample shipment going to the mill of the Goldfield Consolidated, Mr. Boak says the greater part of the tonnage is now on the platform at the Tonopah & Goldfield station and will be loaded and sent in the course of the next three days. Mr. Boak has a pretty sample of almost pure metallic gold taken from a vug hole on the 400, which he will send to President Miller. The specimen is about an inch in diameter and made up of wire gold.

AMUSEMENTS

AT THE BUTLER TODAY

Five years ago Charles Ray, who will be seen at the Butler this evening, in the Aircraft production, "The Sop of His Father," was a member of an unimportant musical comedy company in the far west. Today he is one of the recognized stars of the film world. His newest photo drama gives to this young actor splendid opportunities for effective portrayal of an interesting character. He is seen as the son of a New York railroad magnate who, with five thousand dollars, sets out to prove to his father that he possesses enough inherent business ability to make a hundred thousand dollars in six months. He makes good, defeating his father in a contest of business wits, and finding happiness in the love of a very charming girl of the west. It is a role very much to Ray's liking. Remember, this is the star who made such a universal hit in "The Clodhopper" and "The Pinch Hitter." The latest Hearst-Pathé News with all the notable events, will also be shown today. Tomorrow, in a special attraction, Clara Kimball Young, in the well known play "Shirley Kaye." Also the second of the "Boy Scout" series, "On the Trail."

WHAT'S WHAT

(By L. L. Mushett)

Vol. 1. Tonopah, June 3, 1918. No. 61

The remarkable genius of man continues to thrive. Scandy Nelson and Jack Shepard are the owners of a big high-grade cinnabar mine and are preparing to turn out several carloads of quicksilver.

The plans were about completed for shipping the product when it was discovered that they had no flasks. The situation was explained to Scandy who after a few moments of concentrated thought solved the problem by getting a carload of bottled beer and as fast as they can empty the bottles they are available to ship the "quicksilver." Scandy is now looking for men to help empty the bottles.

This is COAL WEEK. Get in your supply or place your orders with your dealer.

The council of defense is continually receiving new war orders which will hereafter be given due publicity by Wm. Forman through the medium of his staff of four-minute men who will speak from the Butler stage.

The situation is so serious that everybody must become familiar with the requirements and co-operate with the government.
